POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

The Democratic County committee held its weekly meeting last night in the headquarters in the Waikiki building. Plans for the opening of the campaign next Wednesday evening were discussed, and the county committee ratified the action of a sub-committee which selected Kahalepuna to make the race for county clerk.

It was reported that the deadline in the fourteenth and eighteenth of the had been amply broken. David Aali will represent the fourteenth and Manuel Baptiste, the eighth in the county committee.

Expressing his willingness to take the oath of office and to support the constitution and by-laws of the Hui Uniona, Hon. J. C. Cohen, aspirant for senator on an independent platform, will on next Tuesday night be presented to the officers and members of the International Longshoremen's Association. Cohen, backed up by President Kane of the "hui", it is said, is willing to do any thing and everything that the "hui uniona" wants him to do. His object is to get the unanimous support of the unionists, who, according to Kane and Kanekoa, number no less than 1400.

The headquarters of the hui uniona on Queen street will be decorated fittingly for the installation of Cohen into the office. His connection with the hui will doubtless be the means of bringing it to a better and stronger standing, financially.

As soon as he has become a full-fledged member of the hui, Cohen, accompanied by Kane and others, will make a political tour of this island. It is the intention of Kane, who is directing Cohen's campaign, to meet with the voters personally on their trip around the island.

Cohen, according to the waterfronters and unionists, is gaining strength politically every day. Cohen himself says that he is not afraid of his fight, and believes that he will be elected in November, provided, however, he adds, those who are making promises to him now will keep their word.

Under the leadership of the Republican campaign managers, the regular nominees of the Republican party, headed by Col. Sam Parker, candidate for mayor, will take a trip to Hauula tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The candidates, according to reports at Republican headquarters this morning, will assemble on Fort street before going to Hauula in automobiles.

Early this morning Colonel Parker visited headquarters and had a consultation with J. H. Wise regarding the trip to be taken tomorrow. Besides the regular nominees, a few political speakers will be on the bandwagon. William Moesman Jr., a Home Ruler, but who is actively working among the Hawaiians on behalf of Captain Parker, will go along with the party.

The politicians will arrive in Hauula at noon tomorrow, and will soon be the guests of honor at a grand and sumptuous luau which is being prepared today by the electorate at Hauula.

On arrival there tomorrow the party will be received by Kuluwaimaka, a well-known politician of Koolau. Early in the morning, and continuing until late at night, there will be a big conference of Mormons, who, it is reported, are already on the ground. It is at their request, said one of the Koolauites this morning, that Kuluwaimaka invited the Republican nominees to come there tomorrow.

Colonel Parker, Captain Parker and George E. Smithies this morning compared notes as to what they intend to say to the electorate at Hauula tomorrow. Smithies jokingly said that he would be ready with his Hawaiian speech by tomorrow morning. He is at the present time under the tutelage of Senator William J. Coelho, who arrived from Maui last Wednesday. Coelho, as is well known, is an authority on the Hawaiian language. Smithies this morning learned a few points which, he thinks, will be most acceptable to the Hawaiian voters.

when he addresses them tomorrow at Hauula.

Colonel Sam Parker is not losing time, politically. This afternoon at 3 o'clock he will go down to the other side of the island to renew his acquaintances with the voters there. In the party with him will be Robert W. Shingle, county treasurer, who goes down to pay off the men who are working on the road. And, incidentally, Parker wants to go along with him so that he can talk to the Hawaiians there about his candidacy for mayor.

Besides Colonel Parker, Captain Parker and George E. Smithies will go along. It is their intention, too, to say aloha to the electorate and to ask them all to vote for them in November.

Colonel Parker, according to reports, is gaining strength all along the line. Parker is well known to the Hawaiians as a generous and jolly good fellow. And it is believed they will vote for Parker for mayor of Honolulu in November.

WORLD'S LAST TRIBUTE TO JAPAN'S DEAD EMPEROR

TOKIO, Sept. 13.—Funeral ceremonies of the late Emperor Mutsu-hito of Japan, posthumously known as "the Emperor of the era of enlightenment," began today amid surroundings in which the century-old rites and costumes were mingled with modern military display.

From the most extreme points of Japan subjects have been assembling in Tokio. At midnight great crowds had gathered along the route of the procession. The weather was fair. A police cordon was established, shutting off the streets through which the body of the Emperor will be transported and upon which it is estimated 500,000 persons will be accommodated. Soon after midnight officials proceeded to the palace in preparation for the early ceremony.

The somber coloring associated with western mourning was almost entirely absent, being replaced by the brilliant hues of the Orient. Official representatives of every country had come to Tokio to participate in the solemnities. Among them were Princes representing reigning houses and special embassies commissioned by republican Presidents. The list included Philander C. Knox, Secretary of State of the United States, who was accompanied by Ransford E. Miller, chief of the Far Eastern section of the State Department at Washington; Rear-Admiral Alfred Reynolds, and Brigadier-General John J. Pershing. Members of the regular foreign diplomatic body were present in their uniforms.

Great Crowds Gather. From an early hour in the morning the palace, in its great private park in the heart of the capital, was the goal toward which virtually every body in Tokio made their way on foot. The late Emperor only occasionally during his life left the moated enclosure where his body has lain in state since August 13th. Since that day, on each tenth day, solemn memorial services and sacrifices to the spirit of the departed ruler were performed.

The casket containing the body lay in state in the main hall. It had been decorated according to Shinto rites by a special corps of ritualists. The casket measured nearly 10½ feet and weighed one and a half tons.

At 8 o'clock in the morning the official mourners began to arrive. First came the wearers of imperial decorations, court officials, ministers of state and their wives and other specially invited personages. After these came the members of the Funeral Commission in native ceremonial costume, with swords. They were followed by the chief and assistant ritualists of the imperial funeral corps, also in native costume. Members of the household then took their places, and were followed by the higher officials who personally attended the late Emperor, representatives of the peers related to the imperial family and all the physicians present at the deathbed.

Arrival of the Emperor. After a short wait, Emperor Yoshihito arrived. He was in full uniform of Commander-in-Chief, with black crepe arm band and sword knot. He was attended by Count Togo, grand master of ceremonies, and Count Watanabe, Minister of the Imperial Household, who were followed by court chamberlains and carrying the imperial sword and seal. After them came Prince Katsura, the Lord Chamberlain, with General Takamura, the chief aide de camp. A small procession composed of the Princes of the imperial blood in order of precedence came next.

The Empress then entered in a native court dress made of hemp cloth, her unbound hair falling on her shoulders. Her upper garment was of dark brown and her skirt of dull orange.

As soon as the imperial processions had entered the hall and those composing them had taken their seats, the hanging screen in front of the catafalque was removed by the ritualists and the Shinto band played a soft dirge on instruments resembling flutes and three peculiar drums. Worshiping the Spirit.

The chief ritualist and his assistants proffered the offerings of sacred food to the continued accompaniment of Shinto music, after which other offerings of red and white cloth inclosed in willow boxes were made. Prayers for the dead were recited by the chief ritualist.

The most solemn act of all followed when the Emperor, the Empress, the Dowager Empress and the Princes and Princesses advanced toward the casket and worshiped the spirit of the departed Emperor. A short silence ensued, the processions were re-formed

ART DECORATIONS IMPROVEMENT FOR Y. M. C. A. CLUB OF PALAMA ELECTS OFFICERS

The special committee which was chosen to select and purchase statuary and pictures for the Young Men's Christian Association has about decided what it will order in the way of statues. The present choice will probably fall on the following sculptures: "The Wrestlers," "The Fighting Gladiators," "The Scout," and a bust of Lincoln. Of the first two statues, the former is about three-fourths life size, and the latter is six feet high. These two will be placed in the lobby. Two plaques, one "Washington Crossing the Delaware" and the other "The Spirit of '76" will be placed in the boys' department. The committee hopes to place the order within a few days. All these statues are handsome classic studies made by Caproni, the most famous maker of plaster casts in America. The original fund given for the purchase was $250. An additional $250 has been added to this by a man and his wife who are interested in seeing works of art on the association walls, in harmony with the dignity of the architecture of the building and the purposes to which the building is put.

The next work of the committee will be the choosing of photographs and reproductions of famous paintings and works of architecture for the walls of the association.

The international organ of the Y. M. C. A. is called "Association Men." Honolulu is well represented in this month's issue, as there is a page article by General Secretary Super in which he writes up his conclusions and views of association work on the mainland based on his three months' summer trip. There is an editorial on the article in which the editor calls special attention to it as the story of his impressions as a discriminating student of the movement. There is also a series of pictures showing the corner view of the association building and the interior of the gymnasium and also a class. Below the pictures is a short writeup on the physical work of the association.

M'CANDLESS TO TOUR ISLANDS

L. L. McCandless, candidate for Delegate on the Democratic ticket, will take another swing around the islands of Hawaii and Maui before settling down to work of getting Honolulu votes. He will leave in a few days for Hawaii.

The local Democrats plan to open their campaign at Aala park on the night of October 9.

ELOPES TO ESCAPE A TRIP TO PHILIPPINES

Daughter of Major Clark Becomes Bride of Lieut. Spencer M. Smith

WAKEGAN (Ill.), Sept. 16.—Three months ago a tall, handsome young army officer, Lieutenant Spencer M. Smith, came to Fort Sheridan and proceeded at once to fall in love with the belle of the fort, Miss Jeanette Clark, daughter of Major Clark. He made such progress in his suit that he readily outdistanced all other contestants.

Recently Major Clark was ordered to the Philippines. With a toss of her pretty head, Miss Jeanette declared she would not go to the far-away islands with her father. Friends wondered how she intended to solve the problem.

Last Wednesday evening she eloped with Lieutenant Smith and came to Wakegan, where they were secretly married by Rev. George McGinniss at the Baptist parsonage. The next day the story was told and parental blessings received. Immediately Major and Mrs. Clark sent out invitations to a reception for Saturday, which society at the post thought was a farewell gathering before the Major departed for the Orient.

At the head of the receiving line stood Major and Mrs. Clark, who introduced the guests to Lieutenant and Mrs. Smith. Army officers stood for a moment with eyes wide open with astonishment, and then taking the matter as a bit of pleasantry on the part of Major and Mrs. Clark, laughingly shook hands and passed on. But Rev. and Mrs. George McGinniss were there, and declared emphatically to doubting Thomases that it was no joke, but a fact.

and the members of the imperial family retired.

The other members of the assembly, however, remained to worship the dead Emperor's spirit, after which the Shinto ritualists advanced to the altar and removed the offerings to the sound of sacred music. The screen in front of the catafalque was lowered by the chief ritualist and the first ceremony of the funeral ended.

A meeting of the new Palama Improvement Club was held last night to elect officers for the coming year and to hear the reports of the various committees. The following were appointed to hold office: Harry Auld, president; P. L. Horne, vice president; Spencer Bowen, secretary, and H. Fukumura, treasurer. J. A. Rath was appointed as the delegate to the central committee. An executive committee composed of Messrs. Lane, Aulul and Rath was also appointed.

This improvement club is the result of a long-felt want in the way of someone to get after the betterment of the lighting, sanitation and roads of the Palama district. The scheme has been tried by individuals with little or no effect, and it was seen that the people of the district could accomplish more as a body than they could individually.

The roads of the Palama district are in very poor condition and need both repairing and oiling, it is asserted, and the lighting system could be improved upon in many ways. In some parts of the district, it is said, the sanitary conditions are not of the best, a large percentage of the cases of tuberculosis in the city existing within a small radius of Kiag and Liliha streets. All these matters will be taken up by the new club with a view to the general betterment of the whole district.

BALDWIN "HEIRESS" SUES AN ACTOR MAN Causes His Arrest on Charge of Duping Her

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Miss Beatrice Anita Baldwin, one of the unsuccessful claimants of the "Lucky" Baldwin millions, is chief complainant today against Fred Osborne, manager of a "school of acting," whose arrest she caused on the charge of having violated the state employment agency law by taking a fee before he had a position for the applicant. Miss Baldwin aspired to become a motion picture actress and headed the list of a number of well-known young women of Los Angeles who have been subpoenaed to testify as to the promises held out by Osborne to make performers out of them. J. J. Egan, special agent of the state bureau of labor statistics, arrested Osborne. Egan declares that Osborne told his "pupils" that, after they graduated from his school, they would be eligible to join a motion picture company with an establishment near Burbank, Cal.
